Paula Jerome's Charming Bracelets

We're obsessed with Jerome's adorable Atlantic City-inspired charm bracelets.

MAY 05, 2011

Like us, Philadelphia-born jeweler Paula Jerome has memories of a childhood spent in old Atlantic City cast in her head (think Lucy the Elephant and Fralinger's salt-water taffy). Being the creative and whimsical designer that she is, Jerome has channeled those visions into a collection of irresistibly chic charm bracelets. The shockingly historically accurate little replicas that dot her bracelets are crafted from 100 percent recycled silver and 14 karat gold. Charms can be purchased separately or as a complete bracelet. Langman Gallery, 2500 W. Moreland Rd. #1118, Willow Grove, PA
